

Harassment Policy

The Inuvik Curling Center (ICC) does not condone harassment within curling activities. This policy was adopted September, 2000.

Harassment Policy

1. It is the policy of the ICC that every employee and members of the ICC can expect to be afforded a sport and work environment free of harassment and to be treated with respect and dignity. The ICC is committed to providing a quality sport experience for all its members, staff, and volunteers. Therefore, the ICC does not tolerate any form of harassment, i.e. zero tolerance. Zero tolerance is defined as meaning that no level of harassment is acceptable. The ICC will also not accept a hostile atmosphere. This may be defined as an atmosphere of tolerance for behaviour, language, or treatment of an individual which undermines their personal power, creates personal discomfort, or jeopardizes their career aspirations. The ICC will act quickly on any complaint of harassment with the goal of resolving the situation fairly and of preventing future occurrences
2. This policy applies to all employees as well as to all directors, officers, volunteers, coaches, athletes, officials and members of the ICC. The ICC encourages the reporting of all incidents of harassment, regardless of who the offender may be.
3. This policy applies to harassment which may occur during the course of all ICC business, activities, and events when such harassment adversely affects relationships within the ICC work and sport environment.
4. Notwithstanding this policy, every person who experiences harassment continues to have the right to seek assistance from their territorial human rights commission even when steps are being taken under this policy.

Goals of the Policy:

- To resolve a situation fairly and in a timely manner
- To prevent any further harassment
- To eliminate harm to the complainant

Definition of Harassment

Harassment is defined as “a course of vexious comment or conduct that is known or ought reasonably to be known to be unwelcome”.

this would be unwanted sexual advances by someone who is able to grant or to deny benefit (such as team membership) to another.

- Sexual coercion – of sexual activity with threat of punishment or penalty. In sport, this could be, for example, the person who says, “if you don’t sleep with me, I’ll make sure you don’t get an invitation to the national team training camp.”

General Responsibilities

All parties involved (staff, committee members, Board of Directs, participants in ICC events, complainant(s), Investigating Officers, Alleged Harasser(s), Outside Parties and any other party privy to a harassment case are bound to maintain confidentiality throughout all stages of the investigation process or this could result in countersuits and charges of defamation of character. The privacy and reputation of all parties must be protected.

The Board of Directors shall appoint a Harassment Officer(s) whose duties include:

- Initiation of regular review of the Harassment Policy basis to ensure the inclusion of the latest initiatives of the Northwest Territories and Canadian Human Rights Commissions.
- Counseling and recommending on matters related to harassment as well as investigating.
- Establish a central registry to log all incidents of harassment to be kept in a confidential state.

The Harassment Officer shall as soon as possible but in any event within thirty (30) days of receipt of the complaint, file a report to the appropriate Chairperson and to the Chair of the ICC, setting out all the information obtained and copies of all documentation filed by both parties and recommending that:

- No further action be taken because the complaint is frivolous, vexatious or vindictive, or because the conduct complained of cannot reasonably be said to fall within the definition of harassment set out in this document;
- No further action be taken because a settlement has been reached; or
- The formal hearing process be initiated.

A copy of the report shall be sent to the complainant and the respondent.

Individuals are encouraged to report incident of harassment. Individuals who bring the incident(s) to the attention of the ICC will receive the full support of the ICC. Complaints will be addressed in a sensitive, responsible and timely manner. The receiver will then forward or work with the Harassment Officer to resolve the complaint.

In the case of suspected or alleged harassment, the offended party may contact the Harassment Officer for advice, or to make a verbal or written complaint.

The filing of a complaint of harassment is the right of each person involved in curling activities and may be exercised without fear of reprisal or threat thereof. It is further understood that the filing of a complaint shall not in itself constitute sufficient grounds for disciplinary action. In addition, the mere fact that a complaint has been filed against an individual shall not, in and of itself, constitute grounds for disciplinary action against that individual.

Harassment Advisor

The Harassment Advisor is a trained individual(s) to which harassment complaints can be directed. These people are trained to handle cases that may be resolved through informal procedures, and refer all other complaints to the Harassment Officer. If the territorial sport organization has not appointed a Harassment Officer, the advisor would arrange for a trained Harassment Officer from outside the organization to investigate the complaint.
